Answer to Lines on Tally Told.

Oh, hal! young man, you are now in town,
And nothing to do but act like a clown;
Your clownish ways of which we speak
Are far beneath a low down sneer.
You're nothing to do but drink and chew,
And shoot off your mouth a little too;
You'd best beware how you insult the fair,
For your impudence is more than we can bear;
If you only knew what the girls think of you,
You'd not criticise our tally told.

We can chew, and chew, and chew,
And never look at you,
With the state upon you lip,
As you reel as you go,
And you talk so low,
And you try the girls to cheat,
Knocking lowly at their feet,
But they scorn your wine and age,
And they leave you in a rage;
Then you're nothing else to do
But to talk about our tally told.

Tally on Babies.
The little girl cannot play with her doll, nor the boy whiz his top, nor the mother wash her offspring with soap, except at an expense of from one third to one half of their cost for the domestic privilege. [Laughter.] If the mother gives her child castor-oil she pours down 148 per cent., ad valorem [laughter]; if the child does not enjoy the dose, there is a twenty-five per cent bowl as the recipient of the contents of its tender stomach. And though she "wash it with niter and take it to much soap, yet the iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord," for the soap is taxed forty per centum! God help the child!

Mr. Townsend, of Illinois. How about candy?

Mr. Cox, of New York. I am coming to that in a moment, my honey.

[Great laughter.]
If she wraps the little dear in a plain bleached cotton night-shirt, it is a nightmare of five and a half cents per square yard specific, [laughter]; when the child awakes in the morning fretful, she combs its little head at thirty-five cents ad valorem, [laughter]; if she would amuse it, she rolls it over a Brussels carpet at ninety cents per square yard, or gives it confectionery made of refined sugar at four cents a pound tax, and twenty-five per cent., ad valorem; if it tears its little panties, the gentleman from Pennsylvania, [Mr. Kelley] sews them up with spool thread taxed at three quarters of its value. [Laughter.] Why, if she used a shingle to bring the little "toddling, wee thing" to its senses, as the honorable gentleman can recall, the cost would be enhanced at the rate of seventeen per cent. taxation. [Laughter.]

If the youngster has a patriotic inclination on our Fourth of July, his fire crackers are taxed as a patriotic luxury at $1 extra a box, and the bunting which furnishes the flag, tho' but twenty-three cents a pound, costs 121 per cent. extra, while the band plays on instruments taxed at thirty cents. She takes him to the menagerie to study natural history. There is the zebra, symbolic of a mixed ad valorem and specific [laughter], and the stately giraffe, high protection [laughter], the royal tiger, and unicorn of Holy Writ at twenty per cent. And the procession of elephants! Every one twenty per cent. True, Jumbo, for purposes not to be mentioned, is excluded by the affidavit of a consistent protectionist! But the log chain that holds his huge legs binds the monster in protective chains! [Laughter.]—[Extract from Tariff speech of S. S. Cox, in Congress.]

J. M. Thomas, an elder in the Christian Church at Paris, writes to the Apostolic Times of Bro. Barnes as follows: "He is a Christian of high attainments; I have been wondering if our accurate statements were of more worth than his spirit of holiness. I recommend our preaching brethren to go and light their torches at Barnes' altar and avoid errors, but catch his spirit, it is beautiful; most powerfully does he present the love of God, most forcibly deny, as we do, the creeds and paralyzings of the religious world." Elder Thomas sums up Mr. Barnes' doctrine about as follows: Upon the atonement, ability to accept the salvation provided, personal freedom in Christ, growth in grace and knowledge, authority of the Scriptures, he is a Disciple; in the manner of baptism, he believes he is a Baptist; as to a final perseverance, he is a Presbyterian; in regard to the condition of souls after death, a Catholic. The drunkard that lives and dies a drunkard, is purged by purgatorial fires. He is, with many of our best men, an adventist; he believes in a real hell, old style, has two classes of Christians, the high-life Christian that shall wear a crown, and the low-life Christian who shall be saved as by fire.

Dr. J. R. McKee confessed on Sunday night. Before making the confession he whispered something in Mr. Barnes' ear, which he (Mr. Barnes) afterwards explained to the audience was, that "the brother said he was a farmer and owned race-horses, and wanted to know if that made any difference." "I told him to come on," said Mr. Barnes, "and Jesus would accept him, race-horses and all, and if he is not saved I am willing to be damned in his place." He then spoke of a whisky-seller at Stanford, whom "Jesus had accepted, whisky barrels and all."—[Midway Clipper.]

"PRAISE THE LORD."

VERSAILLES, May 10th, 1882.

Dear Interior:
I am glad the friendly senior editor was away when last Friday's paper came out. I want my thoughts of him always to be kind ones. I do not know how even friendship could have stood the strain of being represented to an intelligent community as a lover of "camels' legs." What they supposed I meant by that expression of my preference, it is vain to surmise. But I wrote, "I like camels' legs" i. e. less than "gnats," little as I like them. I am not easily moved, but I ventured on a feeble groan, when wife read the lacerated sentence to me. No, dear readers, I do not like camels' legs. Why should I? Am I not supposed to be crazy now? Has not Prof. McGarvey given me only the brief period of two years before dying in a Lunatic Asylum? I shudder to think how these prophets of ill omen will snatch at this premonitory symptom of insanity, in a hankering after "camels' legs." Suffer this one correction and let the minor exasperations go. I can bear them.

Beautiful Woodford has been called by an enthusiastic admirer, the Asparagus bed of the "blue grass"—supposing that to be the "garden spot of the world." It certainly is lovely in this Spring time of beauty. It is like riding through a park nearly all the way between Midway and Versailles, as any one will testify who has driven along that charming eight miles of turnpike. The dear Georgetown friends sent us off in the same hand-some style that they had entertained us. As they "welcomed the coming," so they "sped the parting guests." The LORD bless them for generous hospitality, not to be easily forgotten. The meeting here began Thursday night of last week. Only one service more, therefore, before the close of the first week's labor. Save a children's meeting, one of the most successful ones we have known, in which 110 of the "little fellows" confessed the Savior, there has been but little harvesting in Versailles. 126 for soul, 9 for body, is the total to this (Wednesday) night. The congregations are all that one could ask in number and respectful attention. Of course we trust the LORD for a glorious ingathering, though we may have to wait a little while for it.

Our quarters are delightful, the Woodford House, kept by Mr. Dean. It is the cleanest, best kept village hotel I ever stopped at, and I have been in a great many in my time. The cookery is simply delicious, and I am glad to chronicle it, for I would not have it supposed for a moment, that I am so lost in the contemplation of heavenly things that I don't know something good to eat, when I see it. On the contrary, I plead with all my heart for a religion that enjoys with intense relish every innocent enjoyment. I will have nothing to do with a religion, so severed from earth, as to be indifferent to good cookery, clean beds, and polite servants. Indeed, I hold tenaciously, that no one can enjoy the good things of this life without a sting in them, except the Christian who walks in constant fellowship with Jesus. And because I aim above all things to do this, good food tastes doubly good, lovely sights appear in double loveliness, and music strikes the ear with double sweetness of harmony. And nothing is a mare. Table comforts are not abused to the verge of dyspeptic horrors, and other cups of earthly joy, like Cowper's tea, are "cups that cheer, but not inebriate." PRAISE THE LORD for this sweet capacity of earthly joy brought in with other greater blessings by the dear Redeemer's love.

O! that my dear readers, instead of substituting any of these things for Jesus, in the vain hope of extracting good from them, or filling up "the aching void" with them, would only take them as the "things added unto you"—after the "Kingdom of heaven has been set up in the heart and life." Then would things that only smart and sting, when thrust in Jesus' place, become joyous adjuncts to our joy in HIM, without whom every thing, whether innocent or guilty in itself, becomes a life long disappointment.

Versailles has a beautiful new Court House, or rather one remodeled from the old one, and seeming entirely new. A handsome audience room, is the one in which the services are held. Several heavy fires in late years have made room for handsome rows of business houses, and the village is greatly improved since my visit in 1870. Ever in Jesus.

GEO. O. BARNES.

"Why," said he, as he drank the liquor and gagged, "I shall never be able to look a dog in the face without being sick. To think of that beautiful girl kissing that dog! If she had seen the dog as I did that afternoon, with some other dogs, she would faint. The dogs were pulling at a cow's tail that they found in a vacant lot, and fighting over it, and the tail was an old one that had fallen from a butcher's wagon. O, see that my grave is kept green, and put an iron fence around it to keep dogs away."—[Peck's Sun.]

A SENTIMENTAL MURDERER.—It was a sentimental Georgia murderer who, having been sentenced to be hanged on June 30, begged that he might be permitted to choke a day earlier, because he didn't want to suffer on the day set for Guiteau's hanging. The judge was accommodating. —[Chicago Times.]

"Banged Hair."
One of the many abominable outcroppings of total depravity is to be seen in the modern, fashionable and idiotic custom of "banging the hair." Little children, young ladies, middle-aged women, and even old women have adopted the ungody "crane." In I Cor. 1: 15, the Holy Ghost declares: "If a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her, for her hair is given on her for a covering." And yet Christian women will in direct disobedience to Holy Writ, cut off the beautiful locks to a certain length, and then paste and force it to grow down over the forehead in the most unnatural manner, thus hiding that which God never designed should be hidden. Alas! that things have come to such a phase that the slightest beck and call of Fiend Fashion is obeyed more faithfully than are the plain commands and exhortations of the Lord. Are our Christian sisters aware of the fact that the habit of "banging the hair" used to be the mark of prostitution in our cities? Away with such fashions! Read I Cor. 2, 9.—[Ex.]

THE WRONG CORSE.—The friends of Mrs. L. E. Kouns, who was lost on the ill-fated Golden City, were greatly shocked last week on discovering that the body that was sent here two weeks ago as that of that unfortunate lady was that of another person. We learn that when the remains arrived it was thought best that her husband, Capt. Kouns, should not see them before interment. The next day or two thereafter the jewelry found upon the remains brought here was received by Capt. K., but which he failed to recognize as that of his wife. This led to a disinterment of the body, and it was then discovered that the lady taken for Mrs. Kouns was between forty and fifty years of age, and that she had lost four of her front teeth; and it was well known that the teeth of Mrs. Kouns were perfectly sound at the time when she went aboard the boat. It is supposed that the remains found were those of Mrs. Dr. Monahan, of Jackson, Ohio, who, with her husband, was also lost at the burning of the boat. —[Ashland (Ky.) Express.]

"Mister," began a small boy, as he entered a Woodward avenue grocery yesterday, "ma bought some mackerel here last night." "Yes," "And in making change you gave her—" "No, I didn't! I haven't had a quarter with a hole in it for a month." "But ma says you gave her a—" "Don't believe it—don't believe it! I remember now; I gave her a half dollar and a nickel." "Ma says you gave her a gold piece for a penny, and here it is." "Good gracious alive! and so I did—so I did. I remember now that I gave her a dollar bill and a lot of small change. Bub, what's your name, and do you think you can eat three sticks of lemon candy? Ah! it does me good to find honesty and reward it."

The circus run by W. C. Coup, son-in-law of Barnum, has one unique characteristic. Nolemonade or candy is sold in the tents. He declares that, while clearing his show of swindlers, he has concluded to make a clean sweep. "There are circuses with big bank accounts," he says, "who have made their money by actually robbing their patrons. They used to swindle on the seats, but that is done away with now entirely, or nearly so. Of course I am not at liberty to mention names, but I could astonish you by designating shows, the managers of which have made their money by partnership with bunco men and other gamblers."

Two Irishmen fighting side by side agreed that the one who was first wounded should at once be carried off by his comrade. Soon one poor fellow cried out that he was shot in the leg, when the other took him upon his back and was carrying him across an open plain, when a chance shot passing swiftly along took off the head of the wounded man without the bearer knowing any thing about it. An officer riding by called out: "Why, where are you going with that headless man on your back?" Upon this, Pat laid down his burden, and looking at it exclaimed: "By jabsers, he told me it was his leg!"—[Ex.]

The Columbus Beacon asks if we desire the defeat of Henry. We answer, Yes. It then asks if we intend to support Jacob. We answer, No. A vote for Jacob would be endorsement of political prostitution, just as a vote for Henry would be endorsement of debauchery and immorality. And we decline to endorse either. —[Breckinridge News.]

Mr. William Gowan, of Lawrence, Mass., whose creditors four years ago accepted his offer to settle an indebtedness of $50,000 for 40 per cent., has just informed them that he is prepared and willing to pay the remaining $30,000 with interest.

The way to reach the North Pole is to advance by s'ge approaches, building huts and depots at available points, and maintaining telegraphic communication with the busy world. There have been enough wild dashes at certain disappointment or death.

STOP AND CONSIDER.—Are you troubled with a weakness in any part of the body? Have you weak lungs, or is your heart's action enfeebled and irregular? Are you suffering from ill-health, caused by weakness of the urinary or digestive organs? Remember, Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you and fully restore both mind and body to their normal condition. It quickly strengthens the parts affected.

Tom, Henry a Bolter.
Captain Tom. Henry was a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives for the term of 1875-7. The election of a United States Senator was pending. Captain Henry favored the election of Gen. John S. Williams, and was active in promoting his interests—all of which he had a perfect right to do. But a caucus of the democratic members was held, and James B. Beck was regularly nominated. The Mayaville Eagle tells the following: "After Beck had triumphed over all filibustering, disorganizing tactics, and had become the regularly nominated candidate of the democratic party, Captain Henry saw fit to signalize and render conspicuous his animosity to Mr. Beck, and his revolt against the decision of the caucus by which he was pledged to abide, by refusing to vote for Mr. Beck. He was not alone in this, as some ten or twelve other malcontents joined with him in this repudiation of their obligations."

Since the 1st of January last, forty-one criminals have suffered the penalty of death administered by Judge Lynch. Hitherto lynching has been confined almost exclusively to the South and to the Western frontier, but of these forty-one cases there have been but six on the frontier and six in the South, leaving nineteen in the Northern States, where the courts are supposed to administer justice. In Colorado, where the influences of rough frontier life still linger, nine men have been lynched, but what shall we say of eight men in Kansas, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Minnesota, where justice is presumably as complete as it is in any part of the country? What can we say except that justice is deficient and that people have an idea that criminals can escape?—[Chicago Tribune.]

My indignation is yearly aroused by the needless sacrifice of some noble oak or elm, and especially of the white pine, the grandest tree in the woods, which I would not exchange for Oriental palms. My thanks will be due to the public school when it is to plant a group of trees in my honor. I could ask no better memorial. I have always admired the good taste of the Sakakis Indians, around Sebago lake, who, when their chief died, dug around a beech tree, swaying it down, and placed his body in the rent, and then let the noble tree fall back into its original place—a green and beautiful monument for the son of the forest.—[Whittier.]

A lady, a widow possessed of youth, beauty and wealth, who lives a short distance in the country, started home in her phaeton the other evening. About a mile from town a man suddenly emerged from a cluster of trees by the roadside and attempted to stop her horse by grasping the bridle. She quickly drew a small Smith & Wesson, fired two shots, and put the fellow to flight. Of course we can give no names, for fear of the Turner pistol law. But how could a lady be indicted for carrying concealed weapons, since they have no pistol pockets in their pan—iers?—[Lexington Evening News.]

The Dublin Farmer says that a full feed of hay to horses, following the feeding of concentrated food, is wasteful. In order to secure best results, hay should be fed at first and the concentrated food afterwards; which leaves it to become fully digested, with no danger of being "crowded away, or out of the performance of its desired purpose."

Professor to classical student: "If Atlas supported the world, who supported Atlas?" Student: "The question has often been asked, but never, so far as I am aware, satisfactorily answered. I have always been of the opinion that Atlas must have married a rich girl, and got the support from her father."

Only about one out of fifteen of the American girls who go abroad to become great singers or actresses are ever heard of after returning home. The other fourteen marry Italian Counts, and, when night comes, are too busy taking care of the monkeys and bending tambourines to hunt up their old acquaintances.

A gentleman in Rapids Parish Louisiana, cultivated one thousand acres of cotton last year, and four hundred in Bermuda grass. The cotton yielded him a net return of about $1,000 less than the grass. The cotton was cultivated with severe manual labor, while the grass was handled entirely by machinery.

"Lawrence, my dear," said his wife, wreathed in smiles, "I wish you had been to church this morning. Mr. Jones was very interesting, and when he prayed for the absent ones—" "Well, that accounts for it, then. I haven't caught such a string of fish for a year as I did this morning."

At a recent auction sale in Baltimore, a half-dollar of 1797, well preserved, brought $50; a silver dollar of 1794, $55; a three cent silver piece of 1773, brilliant proof, $1.50; a half-dime of 1794, $3.50, and a copper cent of 1793, $3.75.

Police matrons are to be appointed in New York city, whose duty will be to try to rescue women who come before them from lives of shame.

Hysteria, nervous excitability, wasting of the muscles, impurity of the blood, quickly relieved by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes the most unheeded story that Tilden has, through friends, offered to give John Kelly his support for Governor of New York, if Kelly would cease to make war on him. The story continues, "The proposal astonished Kelly, who said to have replied: 'That he deemed himself a truer and better democrat than Mr. Tilden, and did not propose to conduct negotiations with him upon any terms to gain admission to a party that he had never left or betrayed, and never proposed to. He did not believe that Mr. Tilden was sincere in his desire to unite the party; but when he could be convinced that he was, he would be willing to consult as to its future welfare.' And so the matter stands at present. Senators Boyd, Hagerty and other Tammany members of the Legislature are happy over Tilden's position, because they believe this advance is a confession of weakness, not a concession for harmony."

In these days of pensions, it seems peculiarly unjust that the old Mexican veterans have been so persistently denied the privileges granted those of every other war. One reason given for the refusal of Congress so far to pension them, is that Jeff Davis and other prominent ex-Confederates would be beneficiaries of the act and so for the sake of a feeling that ought long since to have been buried, these gallant old fellows have never been granted their rights. We are glad to observe, however, that the House Committee to which the matter has been referred, is about to report favorably on a bill to grant them not only pensions but arrears of pensions. The measure will involve the expenditure of many millions of dollars but it is about as good a way as the money could be disposed of.

The railroad agents are devising a plan to shut off scalpers entirely by arranging to refund to the purchaser of a ticket an equitable amount for that portion of it that he fails to use. Thus, if a traveler buys a ticket from Louisville to New York and stops at Washington, he shall be entitled to an amount equal to the local fare between the two latter points. This will of course be more than a scalper can give and his occupation, like Othello's, will be gone, or at least the originators of this plan imagine so.

The temperance fanatics in Indiana do not approach a rum seller, and by their persuasive eloquence, induce him to don the blue ribbon and retire from the infernal traffic. No, no. They've seen that tried and it didn't work well. Their plan is to place dynamite under a saloon in the dead hours of night and blow it to atoms. This was done at Palestine, the other night. The building was not only wrecked and its contents destroyed, but the keeper was blown sky high, breaking his leg and otherwise injuring him.

Each member of the late unheeded legislature drew $85 out of the Treasury during the adjournment for the Atlanta trip and the holidays. Representative Walton, of Boone, feeling that he had no right to the money, has just turned his over to the poor fund of his county, and still there are men mean enough to say that he did it for policy, hoping thereby to give himself a boost for another office.

The Mountain Scorer has the rabies. Hear him: "Captain Henry is a gentleman by instinct, culture and associations, and the man who says he is not, is a malicious liar and slanderer." Such talk as this is all poppycock, and won't win friends for Henry at all. The bellicose editor should restrain himself.

NOTWITHSTANDING Mr. Speaker Owens, has announced himself a candidate for Congress, the Midway Clipper says: "We presume there will be no very great opposition to returning Mr. Blackburn to Congress again from this district." This is hardly treating the distinguished map maker fairly.

The Governor of New York vetoed the bill giving the defense the concluding argument in criminal cases, because the average Commonwealth's attorney is so much inferior in legal ability to those secured by the defense that it would be giving the accused nine points in the game.

In case Guiteau is given another trial, which is now said to be very certain, the Cincinnati Commercial, edited by the great and good Halstead, will declare in favor of Lynch law, and if necessary the g. and g. editor aforesaid will lead the mob to strangle the assassin.

It is related of old John Brown, whose body lies mouldering into clay, while his spirit goes marching on, that his last words before the rope jerked him into eternity, were, "Don't keep me so long a standing." This showed impatience and a desire to have the thing over with, but Pat Devine, who was jerked to Jesus in Illinois last Friday, was not of that nervous disposition. He took things coolly, and when the sheriff evinced a disposition to hurry through with the show, he quietly asked him to "hold on till I get this tobacco out of my mouth." It was too late, however, and Pat and his quid perished together.

We agree with the Brooklyn Eagle that a bill which proposes to relieve the owners of whisky in bond of the obligation to pay into the Federal treasury some $70,000,000 is naturally a subject of suspicion, especially since the whisky men have raised such an enormous amount of money to effect its passage. When a measure of such importance can be rushed through the House of Representatives without debate the public may be pardoned for demanding that the Senate should subject any charges of corrupt or improper influence to the strictest scrutiny.

The trial of the Malles and Blanche Douglas for the murder of pretty Jennie Cramer, at New Haven, is temporarily suspended by the death of a daughter of one of the jurors. The evidence is gradually disclosing the terrible fact that James Malley raped the innocent girl, gave her arsenic enough to kill her and then threw her body into the sea, William Malley and the woman being aiders and abettors of the deed. If all of them do not swing Judge Lynch should sit on their cases.

In his efforts to imitate Jim Blackburn, the Circuit Clerk of Kenton county, has "bit off more than he can chew." He refused to allow a reporter of the Covington Commonwealth to examine the public records of the office, concerning matters of general interest, and the proprietor of the paper has appealed to a judicial tribunal to determine his rights in the matter. Surely this is a day of insolence in offices and of office holders.

Gov. CAMERON, of Virginia, has grown tired of the delay on the part of the administration to give him the pound of flesh agreed upon in the shape of fat federal offices at his disposal, and is in Washington, demanding his dues, and "by God sir" as he expresses it, he intends to have them. We suspect that he learned this profanity from our own dear Luke, while the latter was circling around at Yorktown.

The Cincinnati Gazette sounds this note of warning: "There is too much money in the United States Treasury. This tempts Congress to make liberal appropriations and squander the funds squeezed out of taxpayers. Congress ought to reduce taxes and adjourn. This would be popular. What it is doing is not popular, as members will discover when they return to their constituents."

SARAH WINNE, the wonderful Circassian girl on exhibition at a New York Museum, fell in love with a young man who was inspecting her charms, and the first chance she got, she stole off and eloped with him. If they marry he'll always have a circus in his household.

CONVENTIONS to nominate Superior Judges will be held in the Eastern District at Lexington, June 14th, and in the Western, at Paducah, on the 30th. It is about time the matter was arranged in this district. How would Stanford do?

It is given as a reason for General Chalmers' sudden change in politics that he is bankrupt both in standing and pocket and has sold himself to the administration for a very small figure. Any price for such a man is high, however.

The Senate Committee on woman suffrage has agreed to ask the adoption of another amendment to the Constitution, the 16th, which will enable women to vote. It will not be adopted, however, in this day and generation.

MR. STEPHENS, Vice-President of the late lamented, but now eking out a living by serving a Georgia district in Congress, is spoken of as the probable candidate for Governor of that State on the independent ticket.

TEN DOLLARS from Richmond, Va., to Louisville and return ought to bring the largest crowd to the races in the latter city ever seen. The through trip can now be made in 28 hours.

The Pension Appropriation Bill is completed. It appropriates $100,000,000, the exact amount recommended in its estimates. The appropriations for the current fiscal year are $50,000,000, and it is estimated a further appropriation of $50,000,000 will be necessary to complete the service for that period.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—Business failures for the past week 117.

—There were 175 new cases of small pox in Cincinnati last week.

—The intermediate Appellate Court bill passed the Senate 32 to 18. Six democrats voting with the republicans.

—The Court of Appeals will hear no more arguments for the remainder of the present term except in felony cases.

—A colored man, Robt. Smalls, ex-Congressman from South Carolina, was refused a room in a Boston hotel last week.

—A snow storm prevailed in Iowa Friday, greatly damaging fruit. The ground was covered with the beautiful to the depth of 6 inches.

—At Winchester two indictments have been found against the jailer, one Johnson, and he has been removed by the judge of the Circuit Court.

—Quite a number of National banks in the West and Northwest are giving up their present charters and reorganizing under the present law.

—A car load of colored men from this State arrived in Midway, Pa., Thursday, to take the places of striking miners at that point. Trouble is expected.

—Mrs. Phoebe Spruce was murdered near Rome, Ga. Her husband, who wanted to marry another woman, has been arrested on suspicion of the crime.

—The President has given one man office who was not of the immortal 306. The gift was the postoffice at Hopkinton, and he turned out a lady to make it.

—Hon. J. W. Caldwell declines to stand for re-election to Congress from the 3rd district, since it has been made so shamefully close.

—W. H. Rosenstanch, of Paterson, N. J., has been placed under bond to answer a charge of blasphemy, in uttering words reflecting upon the character of the Virgin Mary.

—The bill re-establishing the court of commissioners on the Alabama claim for the distribution of unappropriated moneys of the Geneva award passed the House—132 to 36.

—James Q. Smith, the contestant for the seat in Congress of Representative Charles M. Shelley, of the Fourth (Alabama) District, died in Washington city. That ought to settle it.

—The veterans of the war of 1812 will this year hold their meeting at Paris, on the 17th day of June. There are now but few of them left and the meeting this year will probably be the last.

—Mrs. Margaret Mason made a personal appeal to President Arthur for the pardon of her husband, but he made her no promises. It is said, however, that he will pardon him after Guiteau is hung.

—The mystery surrounding the death of the Irish Secretaries has not been cleared up, but it is highly improbable that such a crime can remain unavenged, as evidently several persons have had a hand in it.

—According to the Insurance Commissioner's report, just issued, Kentucky paid in premiums last year more than a million and a half dollars and received in losses paid, only a little over one-third of that amount.

—Monroe H. Rosenfeld, author of the song "See that my grave's kept green" and other music, was sentenced in the United States Court at Indianapolis to two years' hard labor in the Northern Prison, for passing a forged postal money order.

—The River and Harbor appropriation bill reported to the House gives the Cumberland river $15,000 below Nashville, $5,000 above the mouth of Jellico, and $3,000 to its South Fork. The Big Sandy gets $25,000 and the Kentucky $225,000.

—Hon. E. C. Washburn, ex-member of Congress and ex-Governor of Wisconsin, died at Eureka Springs, Ark., Sunday, of paralysis and Bright's disease. He went there on the 4th of February last, in hope of being benefited by the use of the waters.

—Guth says that an American Land League is next predicted against greedy land owners. Rhode Island, small as it is, has five farms of over 1,000 acres each; California, 2,531; Mississippi, 1,833; North Carolina, 1,721; Virginia, 1,563; Louisiana, 1,319; Kentucky, 1,112.

—The Chesapeake and Ohio R. R. opened their new Louisville and Washington line on Sunday, the 14th inst. Solid trains, with Pullman coaches, will be running between the cities named, thus affording another great highway by Washington between the East, West and South-west.

—Patsy Devine was hung at Clinton, Ill., Friday for the murder of Avon Good-fellow. He was as cool as a cucumber while the knot was being tied, and the last words he said before the black cap was drawn over his face, were: "Wait a moment till I take this tobacco out of my mouth."

—A bill passed the New York Assembly giving the concluding address to the jury in capital cases to the defense. The Attorney General of the State wrote to the Governor advocating the bill, but that officer has vetoed it. His point is substantially that the average legal ability of prosecuting attorneys in these days is so far below that of counsel for the defense that no justice is worked by the present law.

—Thirty-one tourists are on their way around the world in a steam yacht. They started from England in October, and reached San Francisco about a week ago, having visited the Mediterranean ports and the Pacific Islands. The entire trip will last ten months. The passengers are of both sexes, and each pays $2,500, for which they enjoy excellent fare, the use of a steam launch while in harbor, a band of music aboard, good medical attendance and a large library.

—WASHINGTON, May 13.—The select committee on woman suffrage, by a vote of three to two, agreed to recommend to the Senate for adoption Senator Lapham's joint resolution proposing the following amendment to the Constitution: ARTICLE XVI, Sec. 1. The rights of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State, on account of sex. Sec. 2. Congress shall have power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provisions of this article.

—The Washington Post of yesterday contained the following: Chief Justice Carter and Judges MacArthur, Hagner and James held a consultation Saturday, summing up the arguments of the case in the application of Guiteau for a rehearing. The consultation lasted four hours and was marked by a most searching examination of authorities and the most rigorous analyzing of every point made in the arguments. The judges were in thorough harmony all through, and in reaching a decision, not for one moment differing in the general steps by which the decision was reached, although of course each Judge had individual opinions on various points of law and their application. The decision will be announced May 22. The decision affirms the sentence of the court below, of course overruling the exceptions. This disposes of Guiteau's last chance, and he will be hanged June 30th, 1882.

Fine Carriages.
Ashbrook, Tucker & Co., whose advertisement appears in another column, are well and favorably known to a large number of people throughout Kentucky. They are natives and old residents of this State, and understand thoroughly what our people want in the line of Buggies and Carriages. They make strictly first class work at moderate prices, employing the very best material in every part, and their vehicles may be relied upon to give satisfaction.

Do Not Be Deceived.
In these times of quick medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can speak of as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Penny & McAllister.

BRUCE, WARREN & CO.
"AN HONEST CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL."
In order to get the extreme low prices and greatest discounts, we have bought a larger quantity of goods this season than ever before, and possibly more goods than this trade demands. We have always advocated that it is better for us, and certainly is for the customer, to sell a great many goods for a little profit than a few goods for a great profit. To enforce this principle, we are ready, with an increase of trade, to reduce our prices, and from to-day will begin a new scale that will astonish the people. Our Grocery and Clothing combination, with the advantage of a Double Store, is working admirably, and we continue to urge all to bring along their produce and exchange for merchandise. We have added to our stock a staple line Dry Goods, which makes it almost impossible for you to call for anything we cannot supply.

Parties desiring to visit our store from Livingston, Pine Hill, Brodhead, Gum Sulphur, Crab Orchard, can now come on the regular train and spend five hours to thoroughly investigate this market and learn the genuineness of our low prices. We are always open for the convenience of the public, and continue to invite all to make our house their headquarters; transact your business; chat your friends; use our chairs, writing material, &c., and we trust that you will feel it is no imposition on us, for we confess the public has traded liberally with us, and we want to show some appreciation of it.

VENNOR'S WEATHER ALMANAC
FREE!
Cincinnati Dollar Weekly Commercial,
AN EIGHT-PAGE, 56-COLUMN FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

Printed on Large, Clear, Best Type—Fold down one leaf and insert in any other newspaper in the country, the issue of each week containing over TWENTY-TWO SQUARES FEET OF PRINTED MATTER, and is not surpassed for News, Business Reports, and Select Reading.

Each person sending us $1, including the cost of renewing their subscription, will receive the Dollar Weekly Commercial and the book they may pick out from the following remarkable list—postage paid and free of all cost—the books being unbound and handsomely printed in paper covers.
"Vennor's Weather Almanac for 1882"—Written expressly for the United States by Professor Henry G. Vennor, the noted Weather Prophet, with forecast of the weather for 1882. The work contains not only the probabilities for each month, but the subdivisions showing the probabilities for each week. This almanac is full of most interesting matter prepared by Prof. Vennor, with illustrations and illuminated cover.

"Endymion"—This is the latest production of the EDITOR OF BEACONSFIELD—a work with which he has been identified when thrown out of power by the Liberals, led by Mr. Gladstone. It is the most famous novel of the day.

"Life of Christ"—By Frederick W. Farrar, D. D., F. R. S., late Fellow of Trinity College, Master of Marlborough College, and Chaplain in Ordinary to the Queen. Canon Farrar bases his history upon an independent study of the four Gospels, side by side. In addition, he has consulted carefully the writings of the learned Jew Rabbin, and the best and richest sources of information elsewhere. His book is a succession of beautiful and eloquent thoughts, clothed in perfect language.

"A Treatise on the Horse and His Diseases"—By Dr. B. J. Kendall. A book of nearly one hundred pages, with numerous engravings. It contains an index of diseases of the horse, and gives the symptoms, cause and best treatment of each; a table with an engraving of the horse's teeth at different ages, with rules for telling the age, and much other valuable matter. It is one of the simplest and at the same time a thorough and comprehensive work. Valuable to every horse owner.

"Zerkow"—This is the gem and the glory of the "Waverley Novels"—a classic that all should read.—A story above praise and beyond reproach.

"Social Etiquette and Home Culture"—A book of value to young people in the country who desire to improve the social and domestic life, and to provide for the improvement of the opportunities that even the humblest homes afford.

"Middlemarch"—The greatest of the novels, all things considered, of George Eliot, who was the second writer of her time. The recent death of the author increases its general interest, and its fascination grows with repeated readings.

"Robinson Crusoe"—We are not aware that this book was ever before offered as a free prize. It is a book for boys fond of adventure, and possesses an everlasting charm.

"English Men of Letters"—Burke, Goldsmith, Bunyan. We have here the finest collection of short biographies and biographical literature ever seen in the same space. Each life is a story richer than a romance.

"Midshipman Easy"—Marryat's jolliest tale of the sea—the sailor boy's own book. It will be noticed that our selection of prizes covers an extraordinary range and variety of the brightest and best books.

TO CLUB AGENTS.
We allow a Cash Commission of ten per cent on each yearly subscription to the Weekly Commercial sent to us. In forwarding subscriptions, Agents will please be careful to give in full the name, post-office, county and State of the subscriber, and to give the title of the premium book the subscriber selects. Club Agents may forward one or more subscriptions at a time, as suits their convenience, and those may be made up of names from different post-offices.
If the Agent prefers a Free Book to a Cash Commission, he may, for each yearly subscription sent us, select one Free Book from the above list for himself—in addition to the free book selected by the subscriber.
Without reference to the choice of the Club Agent, each yearly subscriber who pays one dollar is entitled to a free book. The prize books must in all cases be selected at the time subscription is sent. Terms—Cash in advance. Specimen copies of the Dollar Weekly Commercial sent FREE to any address, and in liberal quantities to persons desiring to solicit subscriptions. H. PERSONAL.

—Miss KATE PHELPS, of Madison, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. R. Cobb, Jr.

—Mr. J. C. BRYANT, the popular young druggist of Bryansville, was here Sunday.

—JUDGE R. J. BRECKINRIDGE was re-elected Supreme Treasurer of the Knights of Honor.

—Mr. L. C. ALCOCK, of Pine Hill, was here yesterday. The mountains appear to agree with him.

—MR. C. M. SPOONAMORE and Miss JENNIE MODERLY will take each other for better or worse next Thursday.

—MR. R. C. WARREN has returned from Wayne, the Court there only lasting a week. Quite a number of small cases were tried, but none for felony.

—EX-GOV. JAMES B. McCREARY was here Saturday and met with great encouragement to make the race for Congress, upon which he has now fully determined.

—MR. W. M. LINNEY, of the Geological Survey, is in the county pursuing his work, and we trust that our people will render him all the assistance in their power.

LOCAL MATTERS.

FARM BELLS at W. Higgins'.

GENUINE GERMAN Millet Seed for sale by A. Owsley.

CANNED goods lower than ever at Hale & Nunnally's.

WANTED.—10,000 lbs. country meat will pay highest market price. Hale & Nunnally's.

WANTED.—Country sides, hams and shoulders; highest market price paid. McAlister & Bright.

MR. J. T. HARRIS has fresh fish for sale twice a week—Wednesday and Saturday, at his meat and provision store.

THE proprietors of Lincoln Mills, having secured a permanent water supply, will be able to do custom grinding at any time.

NOTICE.—Will my friends please call at my office instead of asking on the street if I am at home. Respectfully, R. C. Morgan, Dentist.

SEE the new advertisement of Bruce Warren & Co. They are making matters lively in this section with an immense stock of goods and a determination to sell them.

OUR new Campbell press got out of order last Thursday night, and this issue has been gotten out under many difficulties, silent curses having taken the place of the prayers usually said in the office.

THE dwelling house and lot of 64 acres belonging to the Male Seminary property was bought by Mr. S. F. Cowan, for $1,115, which is considered low for it. Mr. Cowan intends it for his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Menefee.

SILAS STEWART, a yellow boy, was sent to the rock pile yesterday for stealing from the Lincoln Mills. He will go in for another 90 days when he gets through with his present sentence, for stealing a pair of pants from Shanks & Bro.

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS.—According to announcement elsewhere in this issue, will open for the season on June 15th. Every preparation is being made for a big reason, and there is reason to believe that there will be a most pleasant and profitable one.

JOSHUA MULLINS, against whom warrants for carrying a concealed weapon and for beating his wife, have been in the hands of the Sheriff for some time, was arrested and lodged in jail yesterday. He had been on the railroad extension since the alleged acts were committed.

THE schedule of passenger trains on the Knoxville Branch was changed yesterday, and until further notice the train going to Louisville will pass here at 9:10 A. M., and the train going South at 2:05 P. M. Every body is delighted with the change, the merchants being especially pleased.

PENSION.—James Hazlett, living near town, has just received $800 arrears, and will hereafter draw four dollars per month for rupture alleged to have been caused during his service in the army. Mrs. Salie Williams, near Waynesburg, has just received a voucher for $1,780, for her son who was killed in the army.

THE Register publishes a list which shows that there are 78 persons in Madison, that own over 500 acres of land each, the greatest number of acres owned by a single man being 2,130. There are 153 who pay tax on $10,000 and over. The figures run from that to $131,600, which amount Col. John A. Duncan is assessed.

HEAD CUT OFF.—A brakeman on the Cincinnati Southern John Murphy, fell from the early freight train Friday morning, near McKinney, and had his head literally cut from his body. The accident happened at the identical spot where five men were killed last year and two seriously wounded. Mr. Murphy was from Leesburg, O., whither his remains were taken for interment.

ICE kept constantly for sale at my butcher stand. W. F. Ramsey.

FIFTY boxes Glean & Storer's soap just received at Hale & Nunnally's.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND BRICK for sale. Apply to Henry Bagham, Stanford.

PARASOLS, Fans, White Goods, Laces and Hamburg Edgings. Latest styles and lowest prices at Robt's Lyle's.

THE change of schedule without a day's notice, knocked us out of at least three letters that usually appear in our Tuesday issue.

TAKE WARNING.—Save costs. Your note or account will be warranted on the 1st of June if not settled. We mean business. Chennault & Penny.

We have had what the older citizens call "Blackberry Winter" in earnest. For nearly a week it has been rainy and cold enough for frost, making about as disagreeable a spell as could be imagined.

FIGURES are produced to show that ice can be manufactured at 63 cents per ton. This is cheaper than gathering it, and we suggest to Mr. Barrow that he use a machine hereafter and not be dependent on a cold snap for his supply of ice.

DICK SHANKS, the negro boy arrested for shoplifting and mentioned in our issue of Friday, was tried on Saturday, and sent on to the Circuit Court. He confessed to the recent robbery of the Lincoln Mills, but says he only got 59 pounds of flour.

OUR mountain and other friends up the road can now do their trading in Stanford as formerly, as the new schedule will give them five hours here. We extend a cordial invitation to all so inclined, at the same time assuring them that nowhere outside of the largest cities can there be found larger or more comprehensive stocks than here, nor can there be bought better goods for so small amount of money.

A PETTY THEFT.—John W. Baugh was tried before Police Judge Moore at Kings Mountain Saturday and held to the Circuit Court. He had stolen clothes from Mr. Pennybaker. Being from home and without friends, Baugh was unable to give the $75 bail fixed in his case, so he was lodged in jail here, where he remained less than twelve hours, his father having come up from Pulaski and left the necessary collateral.

MRS. CAMPBELL, who says she is a daughter of a Mr. Arnold, near Richmond, with her three children, put off the train here Saturday as her funds had run out. Judge Brown seeing her distress raised a poor purse sufficient to board her and children till yesterday and pay her passage to Richmond. She says her husband died in Virginia leaving her without money, and that by the assistance of kind people she has been enabled to return to her father.

LINCOLN'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.—We are indebted to our County Clerk, Mr. John Blain, for the following figures from the Assessor's books of 1882:

189,004 Acres of land, valued at.....	$2,635,901
454 Town Lots.....	277,692
4,273 Horses and Mares.....	161,004
1,214 Mules.....	74,210
48 Jennies.....	1,210
17,912 Sheep.....	25,961
10,812 Hogs.....	24,967
8,644 Cattle.....	125,636
90 Stores.....	123,835
Value under Equalization law.....	541,620
Pioneer Carriages, &c.....	21,622
Gold and Silverware, and Plate.....	31,857
Total valuation by Assessor.....	$4,666,966
Added by the Supervisors.....	7,020
Total.....	$4,673,986

The above is an increase over last year's assessment of $4,888. There are 152 more poll tax payers than in 1881, the number now being 3,424; legal voters increased from 3,338 to 3,400, and children between 6 and 20 years of age, from 4,488 to 4,727. There are 6 blind persons and 7 who are deaf and dumb. Only 8 dogs were listed for taxation, and yet 68 sheep valued at $163 were killed by them. The farmers in spite of the drought make the following returns: 35,892 lbs of Tobacco; 4,721 tons of Hay; 350,787 bushels of corn; 72,295 bushels of wheat.

DEATHS.

—KENNEDY.—Of consumption, Saturday night, Mr. Walker Kennedy, son of Mr. David Kennedy, aged about 25. He was a young man of good habits, and since his profession of religion last June, at which time he joined the Baptist church, he has lived an exemplary Christian life. Rev. R. R. Noel preached the funeral discourse Sunday afternoon, and then the remains were taken to Buffalo Cemetery for interment.

RELIGIOUS.

—The American Tract Society issued last year 392,000 volumes, received $379,221, and expended $374,097.

—The colored Methodist Church claims to have a membership of 3,000,000 and church property amounting to $16,000,000.

—The Southern Baptist Convention has adjourned to meet next year at Waco, Texas. Dr. John A. Broadus, of Louisville, will preach the initiatory sermon.

—The congregation of Fork Church, in Garrard, will celebrate the centennial of the foundation of the Baptist Church there next Sunday. Two services will be held, and a big basket dinner will be set.

—The General Conference Committee on Temperance reported "that while we recognize the fact that much evil grows out of the immoderate use of tobacco, yet we would recommend no special legislation on the subject." Brother Sims held his breath while the Committee was out.

—Mr. Barnes' letter that should have appeared Friday, is given to-day, as it did not arrive till a day after the last issue went to press. It is hardly necessary to state that the compositor and proof reader who made him express a fondness for "cannel's leg" have fled to the "mountains of hepsidam."

—At the Baptist Convention at Green-castle, S. C., a resolution was adopted providing for a committee to confer with other Baptists, with the purpose of co-operating for the production of a new translation of the Bible, and giving to the Nations of the earth, in their respective languages, the pure word of God.

—The Maine Methodist Conference passed resolutions against granting and obtaining divorces "for any other cause than that specified by our Lord." They declared that it was wrong for a minister to marry a couple when there is suspicion of either of the parties having been divorced for any other reason than breach of the seventh commandment; and they urged ministers to preach on the subject at least once a year.

—The Southern Presbyterian General Assembly, which meets next Thursday at Atlanta, Ga., has under its care 1,957 churches, with 1,061 ministers and 121,915 communicants; the Cumberland Assembly, which meets to-morrow at Huntsville, Ala., has 2,570 churches, 1,386 ministers and 113,903 members, and the United Presbyterian Assembly has 814 churches, 704 ministers and 82,937 members. The latter will meet on the 24th at Monmouth, Ill.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—The Louisville races open to-day. A score of good ones are entered for the "Derby."

—Pope Leo, Bengal, Rufus Lisle and Wanderer won the races at the closing Lexington day.

—Troy, the famous American race horse in England, has ruptured a blood vessel, and is laid up.

—Wm. Clark, of Ohio, has bought Jno. Gibson's 150 acre farm near Somerset, for $4,250 cash.—[Reporter.]

—A Clark county man estimates that not over two per cent. of the wheat in that county was injured by the frost.

—Uncle Jerry Maxwell sold to J. S. McDonald, 70 Tennessee cattle at $20 per head, supposed to be 3 cents a lb.

—George D. Warren, of Stanford, sold D. V. Kennedy & Co., of the Favorite Mills, 700 bushels old wheat at $1.40.

—J. E. Lynn sold to J. M. Hall, a car load of 1,000-lb. heifers to be delivered December 15th next, at 4 cents. This is about one cent higher than the same class of stock sold for last December.

—DANVILLE COURT.—Auctioneer Bush reports a big crowd and 700 cattle, mostly young stock. Prices 4 to 5 cents for best, 3 1/2 to 4 for common and scrub. A few horses sold at $60 to $80. No mules.

—The wheat crop of Arkansas this season is the best for ten years. In many localities it is already harvested, and the yield is pronounced excellent, in some counties averaging twenty bushels per acre.

—A. J. Alexander sold at "Woodburn" Saturday, thirty-seven yearling colts and fillies for $37,545. The highest-priced animal was a full-sister to the renowned Fox-hall, Lorillard and Keene contended for the prize, which was knocked down to the latter at $3,800.

—Bowen & Co. held their first annual sale of thoroughbred yearlings at Lexington Friday, the lot averaging $750. Dwyer Bros. paid $2,000 for a full-brother to Runnymede, $1,600 for a half-brother, and W. L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, $2,000 for still another billet colt.

—Francis & Sevier, of Kingston, have bought from 1,000 to 1,500 lambs, to be delivered between the 10th of June and 1st of July, at 4 1/2 to 5 cents per pound.

Capt. Hoge, bought $11,000 worth of mules for his railroad contract, on an average of $150 per head.—[Richmond Register.]

—Below are the ruling prices for provisions, &c., in Stanford: Bacon shoulders, 10c; hams, 10 1/2c; sides, 15c. Flour, $4.00 to $4.50; corn, $5.00; meal, $1.10 per bushel; oats, 75c; coffee, 12 1/2 to 20c; molasses, 60c; to 90c; dried apples, 7c; peaches, 8 1/2c; Irish potatoes, $1.00 to $2; sweet potatoes $2; butter, 25c; cheese, 20c; eggs, 10c; salt by 7 bushel bbl. $2.

—Corn is current at $5 per barrel in some parts of the county. The grass crop in this county is shorter than has been known for years. Clifton Prentiss sold 90 fat wethers at 4 cents per lb. Butler Bros. has refused an offer of $1.05 per bushel for his growing wheat. William White sold a yoke of oxen weighing 2,700 lbs. for $153.50 last week to Waller Chenault. He also received 30 cattle to graze at $2.50 per head per month.—[Clark Co. Democrat.]

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Engleman's Mill.

—The cool weather has caused the angling business to be a little dull.

—Owing to the failure to get speakers for next Saturday, the picnic at Providence has been postponed until Saturday week.

—Last Sunday was show day at Providence, but owing to the fall-like weather there were not many out in their Spring costumes. Overcoats and cloaks showed to a better advantage.

—We would advise those young gentlemen of Garrard the next time that they go out riding not to take on so much whisky that they cannot distinguish a white lady from a colored one, else they will be held accountable for their ungentlemanly conduct.

—Mrs. R. C. Farris and pretty little daughter, Ella May, of Atlanta, Georgia, are visiting relatives here. Frank Engleman was considerably bruised a few days by a horse falling down with him. John Leak, son of Robert Leak, of this place, who has been breaking on the C. S. R. R., came home a few days ago in bad health. Your correspondent had one of his little toes badly mangled last Saturday by a horse stepping upon it. It is to be hoped that amputation will not be necessary, however.

GARRARD COUNTY.

Lancaster.

—Geo. Elliott caught the boss fish last week, weight, 5 1/2 lbs; net length, twenty-five inches.

—The republicans nominated Mr. Layton, one of the defeated candidates in the Jailor's race, for Assessor. They have not yet nominated for Sheriff.

—The Richmond Dramatic Company will give an entertainment here the night of May 22nd. Lancaster owes it to herself to give them a big house.

—Mess. Geo. Burdett and John Woodcock, two of Bro. Barnes' most ardent admirers, went to Versailles, Saturday, to hear the great preacher once more. Mr. Wink Alcorn, of Pine Hill, is on a visit to relatives here. He is a good fellow and a pleasant companion. May his love for the truth never grow less.

—Home grown strawberries are the chief articles of desert here about this time. Bet your life they are good.

—The recent change in train time at this place will be quite a convenience to our citizens who may have business in Stanford. Leaving here at 8 A. M. they will have ample time to transact any ordinary business and return, arriving here at 2:50 P. M.

—In order to close out their canned goods, Geo. D. Burdett & Co. offer for the next thirty days—Yamouth Corn, per dozen, $1.60; 3-lb. Standard Tomatoes, $1.50; 2-lb. do., $1.20; Peaches, Apricots, Pine Apples, &c., in proportion. Sugars, Coffee, Tea, and Queensware, much lower than elsewhere.

—The examining trial of Capt. Singleton for killing Ray, was held before Judge Duncan, Friday, after hearing the evidence in the case dismissed it. It was thought Jenson who was present this time, would be arrested, as the evidence pointed to him as the party who threw the rock which caused Ray's death, but for some reason he was not. But there may be a hereafter in the case.

—The democratic County Committee had the good sense not to call a Mass Convention to name its candidates but met Saturday afternoon and without any disorder or confusion put the following ticket in the field. Circuit Clerk, W. S. Kavanaugh; Sheriff, Geo. Higginbotham; Jailor, Sam. Rothwell; County Clerk, Tom Wherritt; Assessor, Tom Austin. A nomination for County Judge will be made shortly, and the fun will begin in earnest.

The nominees are all good men and if they are not elected it will be somewhat of a surprise, if the present indications continue.

Letter from Whitley.

WILLIAMSBURG, KY., May 12, 1882.
Editor of Interior Journal.

Seeing no communications from this place in the columns of the INTERIOR, your correspondent thought it not only highly advisable, but perhaps absolutely necessary, that they should contain some notice of so important and enterprising a town as that classically known as Williamsburg, and vulgarly called by the U. States postal service as Whitley Court House.

It is the seat of the county in which the boy as legend has it, followed the first wagon ever in the county, all day to see the hindmost wheel run over the foremost. It is situated about fifteen miles above the Falls of the Cumberland, on the very bank of that river. A few years ago there was only a population of 200 in the town and the people lived along, wearing out their monotonous lives to be succeeded by another and a wiser generation. But since that time the Knoxville extension of the Louisville and Nashville R. R. has planted its battering ram against the end-rock cliffs of the neighboring country and waked the little town to the sense of its importance and the advantages afforded by its location. To-day the grading is almost done, and in September we shall be likely to see the gigantic civilization of modern times rush through, and with her tramp proclaim the end of the reign of ignorance, and the beginning of the new era of thought and civilization.

Since the time first mentioned the town has increased from 200 to 1,000 inhabitants. Saw mills, staves, and handle factories are being established, and that infallible forerunner of business and prosperity, the Jew, has made his appearance in our midst. Speculators and capitalists are daily arriving to investigate the mineral resources of the county. Many specimens of the different kinds of ore have been sent to be assayed, but no report has yet been made of the result. As to the timber there is perhaps more of this than can be used for the next twenty-five years, and that adjacent either to the Cumberland or its tributaries, while within a short distance there is timber sufficient to keep mills running at a profit for many years afterwards.

B. G. Gover, of Somerset, has bought the store and goods of W. F. & E. E. Watkins, and is preparing to go in to business here.

We have a Base Ball nine lately organized here which claims the honor of having beaten the Barbourville nine, and although we know nothing of their ability to play well, we are willing to bet on them on general principles. From the very fact they are Williamsburg boys just starting and need encouragement, we would stake our last dollar on them.

A LETTER.
Office of Wm. Derrington, Chicago, April 19, '82
E. J. ZIESKY & Co., Lexington.
The owners of certain patents, known as the "T. B. GORDAN" have brought out against my TWINE BINDER, a law suit to state that the Gordan patents have for a long time been offered at a moderate royalty, and were carefully investigated by my attorneys, who decided that I in no way infringed them. If the owners think otherwise, it is quite legitimate and right that they should submit the same to the decision of a proper tribunal. I will cheerfully join issue and abide the result. A decision in the Circuit Court can scarcely be expected in less than three to five years, and a final one in the Supreme Court in any less time; you need not therefore expect to be made immediately acquainted with the final issue. The courts are open to any one wishing to litigate his patents, and the owners of these patents at liberty to prosecute their action against either the manufacturer and vendor, or any seller or user; but having properly elected to proceed against me, they are declared from action against any of the others concerned. This concern is undertaken to have become the owner of one-third part of these patents by the exchange of other patents of little value, and is now floating the newspapers of the country with notices of the suit, accompanied with comments intended to make the impression that it will be hazardous to buy any other machine. Any machine that requires the use of advertising, being made in and need of substantial merits to command it. This concern falls to insert in these paid advertisements for the benefit of purchasers of farm machinery, that they are now in the courts a defendant in suits for infringement of the Gordan patents of Binders. If infringement they do not advertise the fact that all, or nearly all the machines they have put out of late are subject to patent litigation? And with the formula usually appended to the notices of the B. G. suit. "It would be well for farmers to be cautious in buying McCormick machines, etc."

Finally, I wish to say, I was first to put a successful Twine Binder in the harvest field. I have made and am making the best and most successful Twine Binder. I have sold more and am now making (as I believe) more Twine Binders than any other concern in the United States. I shall continue to make and sell the best binder. I am able and disposed, and will warrant, defend and protect against all adverse claimants and come, all past, present and future purchasers of the Twine Binder. If the courts in this case, or any other, find me guilty of infringement, I will abide by their decision and respond to their mandates.
Wm. Derrington.
